When does SCE anticipate the "International Joint Investor-Owned Utility wildfire committee" described in section 5.3.10.2 on page 5-147 will be established?

Response to Question 028 (SCE-43895-L-349):

SCE is currently working with the prospective participants to establish guiding principles and a funding mechanism for the International Wildfire Risk Mitigation Consortium (IWRMC). There are many details that still need to be resolved including, for example, steering committee membership, governance on information sharing, funding sources, and prospective participants' funding and resource commitments. We anticipate these issues to be resolved between now and sometime in Q2 of 2020 with the inaugural meeting taking place soon after these core governance principles have been established and committed to by the participating members.

Notwithstanding these hurdles, SCE has already established working relationships with several prospective member companies and have had active dialogue on various wildfire mitigation topics, including the effectiveness of covered conductor and rapid earth fault current limiters (REFCL), which helped inform our previous and current WMP.
