Response to Question 002- SCE-43900-Z -627:

PSPS damage photos will be delivered in a file geodatabase so photos can be hyperlinked to the GIS feature class. ESRI limitations limit one picture per feature so in cases where there are multiple pictures per structure there will be multiple point for the same structure. Photos can be accessed in ESRI tools using the Identify tool or through the attribute table of the feature class.
